PACT FOR PEACE IN THE PACIFIC AGREED UPON

Anglo-Japanese Alliance Ends as Four Power Agreement Is Accepted

Washington, Dec. 10.—The Anglo-Japanese alliance, long regarded with apprehension by the American people, passed into history today when spokesmen of both nations at the Arms Conference accepted in its stead a new four-power agreement for preservation of peace in the Pacific, to which the United States and France became parties.

This action, with fulfillment of details to follow, paves the way to acceptance of the American proposals for reduction of naval armaments and in larger measure is expected to contribute to settlement of the Chinese questions.

Announced to the conference by Senator Lodge, the four-power treaty provides briefly that the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France agree among themselves to respect their insular possessions and dominions in the Pacific and to adjust by joint conference among themselves any controversies not settled by the course of diplomacy. They further agree to take similar action in the face of any threat of aggression by other powers.

Must Be Confirmed By Senate
The proposed treaty has been initiated in affirmation by the representatives of the four great Powers, although not yet actually signed, and must be confirmed by the United States Senate.

It is for ten years, but any one of the signatories may withdraw after that period on twelve months' notice.

In order Rene Viviani, head of the French delegation, and Arthur J. Balfour, heading the British delegation, and Prince Tokugawa, chief of the Japanese delegates, arose and gave their assent to the new agreement. They were followed by the delegates of the other Powers, who also expressed satisfaction at the new arrangement.

Most interesting among these was the declaration of Minister Sze of China, who expressed "great satisfaction" with the proposed treaty.

Now, while the actual perfection of the treaty goes forward, it is expected that the naval armament and Chinese questions will speedily go on toward settlement.

Text of Treaty

"ARTICLE 1.
"The high contracting parties agree as between themselves to respect their rights in relation to their insular possessions and insular dominions in the regions of the Pacific Ocean.

"If there should develop between any of the high contracting parties a controversy arising out of any Pacific question and involving their said rights which is not satisfactorily settled by diplomacy and is likely to affect the harmonious accord now happily subsisting between them, they shall invite the high contracting parties to a joint conference, to which the whole subject will be referred for consideration and adjustment.

"ARTICLE 2.

"If the said rights are threatened by the aggressive action of any other Power the high contracting parties shall communicate with one another fully and frankly in order to arrive at an understanding as to the most efficient measures to be taken, jointly and separately, to meet the exigencies of the particular situations.

"ARTICLE 3.

"This agreement shall remain in force for ten years from the time it shall take effect, and after the expiration of said period it shall continue to be in force subject to the right of any of the high contracting parties to terminate it upon twelve months' notice.

"ARTICLE 4.

"This agreement shall be ratified as soon as possible in accordance with the constitutional methods of the high contracting parties and shall take effect on the deposit of ratifications, which shall take place at Washington, and thereupon the agreement between Great Britain and Japan, which was concluded at London on July 13, 1911, shall terminate."

The treaty has not been signed formally, but has been initiated by representatives of the four Powers as affirmed.

HARTFORD DEFEATS CANEYVILLE

The Hartford High School "Pike Quintette" climbed another rung higher on the championship ladder when they defeated the crack aggregation of goal artists from the Caneyville High School on the local floor Saturday night by the count of 34 to 25. The game from start to finish was an excellent exhibition of first-class basket ball and furnished the good-sized crowd of spectators with plenty of thrills. The score at the end of the first half was 9 to 8 in favor of the visitors, but the locals ran away from the Grayson boys in the final heat. Messrs. May and Holman gave entire satisfaction as officials. The chief point-makers for Hartford were Crowe and Shultz, a natural result of their position as forwards, but Likens and Bennett also broke into the scoring column and Bartlett gave an excellent account of himself at center, though handicapped by the fact that he had not completely recovered from an attack of appendicitis. Millam was the chief scorer for the visitors, though the remainder of the team performed creditably.

Line-up and score:

| Hartford | Caneyville |
|------------|------------|
| Bartlett 0 | Center 11 |
| Crowe 13 | Forward 14 |
| Shultz 13 | Forward 5 |
| Likens 6 | Guard 2 |
| Bennett 2 | Guard 0 |
| | Corley 0 |

Mr. Prather and the Boys Basketball Team went to Hartford Saturday to play that High School on its own floor. There was great optimism on the part of our school, because of the great victory over Hartford. Hartford had even written, asking that we cancel the date in order to give them time to practice, but we insisted or even demanded the date or a refund of some of the expense paid them. They reluctantly consented that we come and to our great surprise took a victory from us with a score of 36 to 18. We are sure that we have a better team with an even break on floor, lights, and goals, but the bad lights, undersize goals small playing space resolved the game into a wrestling match that put our boys to a great disadvantage. We received the best of treatment from the Hartford people and are anxiously awaiting the chance to play the "rub" which has not yet been arranged for.—Clarkson School Notes in Leitchfield Gazette.

TURNER—HOLBROOK

Miss Kathleen Turner and Mr. Harold T. Holbrook surprised their many friends when they went to Calhoun last Wednesday, obtained a marriage license in the McLean County capital and were joined in wedlock by Rev. L. W. DEPUTY KILLED, 2 WOMEN WOUNDED RESULT

Of Attack On Jail at Jackson, Ky.; State Troops Ordered Out

Jackson, Ky., Dec. 10.—Warrants in the hands of a Sheriff's posse for Fred Noble and his sons, Beach and Soldier Noble, charging them with the killing of Deputy Jailer Albert Roberts and the probable fatal wounding of Mrs. Oscar Allen and Miss Maggie Allen, daughter-in-law and daughter of Jailer A. A. Allen, in an attack on the jail early today, were expected to be served this afternoon.

The men were recognized, it was said, by the wounded woman, Jailer Allen when they attempted to escape. Hargis and Willie Noble, Fred Noble's son and nephew, whom the trio evidently did not know, had been sent to the Frankfort Jail Friday to serve the same term for murder.

Troops Arrive Sunday
Four hundred men from Louisville were put on the trail this morning, but to no avail. The Nobles, who were twelve miles from here, went for them during the night.

Troops ordered here by Governor Morrow were not expected to arrive from Whitesburg and Harlan until tomorrow morning. The two men who were shot, cannot survive, according to physicians at the local hospital.

Three men came to the back door of Jailer Allen about 2 o'clock this morning, knocked and for the keys, saying they had a prisoner. Allen said that the deputy Jailer upstairs had the keys, returning to Roberts.

Women Are Shot Down

Two men went in to the jail and when Oscar Allen, Deputy Jailer and son of Jailer Allen, came to the door they fired point blank at him, but missed him. The second group, Allen's wife, Mrs. Mary Allen, and his sister, Maggie Allen, who were running out followed by Roberts. As the women appeared on the platform at the top of the stairs, just as the door, they were shot down. Six bullets entered the body of Allen's wife, shattering the spine and three entered the abdomen of Miss Allen. Both were pronounced dead at the local hospital.

At the two o'clock attack, the men entered the jail and shot at the men wanted for the same crime.

LOCAL BOY HAS

TRAUMA

Roscoe, aged 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mourning of near Hartford, was taken to the Trachoma Hospital at Greenville recently and underwent an operation for that dread eye affection. The operation was entirely successful and the boy is rapidly improving. He will return home in a few days. He was accompanied to Greenville by his father. The boy's condition was discovered at the recent health examination conducted at the local school. The opportunity for treatment was put before his parents by representatives of the Red Cross. Mr. Mourning is enthusiastic in his praise of the hospital management and treatment and is greatly interested in persuading and helping other sufferers to avail themselves of its advantages.

INFANT DROPS TO DEATH

Inez, the three year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Rush Milkiff, of Sunnydale, died at about 10:30 Saturday night as the result of burns sustained at 3:00 o'clock that afternoon. Mrs. Milkiff had been rendering lard near the residence and the fire was still burning when she went to gather in the eggs. While she was away she heard the screams of the child and ran to the house only to find her clothing in flames and her body very badly burned. The child was given medical attention but to no avail. Mr. Milkiff was out hunting and did not reach home until about the time of the child's death.

The funeral was preached at Marvin's Chapel, Monday, by Rev. Wilcox, after which the body was laid to rest in Sunnydale Cemetery.

DOMINION RULE FOR ERIN CONDITION, FEALTY TO KING

Result of Treaty Which is Sure
To Be Ratified By Both Parliaments

London, Dec. 6.—The century-old quarrel between England and Ireland was ended, as had been fervently hoped, early Tuesday morning by the signature of "a treaty between Great Britain and Ireland" consisting of eighteen articles giving Ireland the title of the Irish Free State and the same constitutional status as Canada, Australia and other dominions.

The question of allegiance, which up to the last moment threatened to wreck negotiations, was surmounted by permitting the members of the Irish parliament to swear allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State and be faithful to His Majesty, the King.

The treaty has yet to run the gauntlet of the Ulster government and the Imperial parliament. The Imperial parliament meets Dec. 14, and will be opened in state by the king.

Approval by the Imperial parliament is a foregone conclusion as the government has an overwhelming majority in the house of commons favoring its policy and the government's action reaching the agreement has already been unanimously endorsed by the cabinet.

Ulster's Position Not Certain
The position of Ulster is less certain. Evidence comes from Belfast tonight that the treaty will be subjected to the most searching examination before receiving assent, and doubtless many modifications will be proposed.

The king sent the prime minister a telegram congratulating him on the success of the negotiations and declaring "I am overjoyed to hear the splendid news." The king will come to London purposely tomorrow to preside over the privy council to approve the proclamation summoning parliament as the constitution requires a six day's notice by royal proclamation.

Signed by All Members

The treaty was signed by all the members of the British and Irish delegations participating in the negotiations. The Irish delegates signed their Gaelic names.

Ireland is treated as a single entity in the provisions of the treaty with special clauses providing against the possibility that Ulster should refuse acquiescence in the settlement, in which case the government of Ireland act of 1920 will remain in force so far as the Northern parliament is concerned, but with the stipulation that a special commission shall determine new boundaries for Northern Ireland.

Provisions also are made for the co-operation of the two parliaments in providing certain safeguards in the event of Ireland remaining from the new free state. Neither parliament, however, will be permitted under the treaty to make law endowing any particular religion or to impose any religious disability.

The treaty looks to Ireland in the future for undertaking its own coastal defense and provides Ireland shall in time of war give the British force necessary harbor and other facilities, further, by providing against international limitation of armaments, recognizes the Irish Free State's right to maintain its own military defense force.

Premier Man of Hour

Premier Lloyd George is the recipient of universal congratulations for having successfully rescued the negotiations from what appeared to be a complete impasse. The general belief, however, is that Lord Birkenhead, who came to the government's rescue, when the question of renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty had reached a critical stage, is this time responsible for the formula overcoming the allegiance difficulty.

Arthur Chamberlain, who is leader of the government in the house of commons of the Unionist party, speaking at Birmingham tonight, expressed the conviction permanent peace and good would be established between "the parent races of the Irish commonwealth," and appealed with emotion to Northern Ireland to join the new free state.

U. S. DESTROYER TO TAKE FLEEING BANKER

Washington, Dec. 1.—The Justice Department was understood today to have asked the Navy Department to send a destroyer to intercept the French liner Paris and bring back Charles W. Morse of New York, who is reported to have left the country in the face of a grand jury investigation of his ship contracts.

It was understood that a naval destroyer would put to sea from a French port within a few hours to intercept the Paris, which left New York last Friday.

While neither Attorney General Daugherty nor other Justice Department officials would discuss the reported departure it was learned that every agency of the government would be used in effecting his return to this country. Immediately upon receipt of the report that Morse had left the country, the department was understood to have radioed the liner Paris to hold Morse for return to America. Later the Navy Department reported that it could find no authority to take such action.

HARDING SEES HELP TO U. S. IN AIDING WORLD

Address to Congress Outlines Programme of Domestic Reconstruction

Washington, Dec. 6.—A national programme of domestic reconstruction, to be America's contribution "to restored normalcy in the world," was outlined today by President Warren G. Harding in his annual message to the Congress.

He disclaimed at the outset any purpose to bring forward a programme of world restoration, stating that the several nations themselves must find "the heroic remedies for the menacing conditions under which they are struggling," but he added: "Then we can help, and we mean to help. We shall do so unselfishly because there is compensation in the consciousness of assisting. We shall do so selflessly because the commerce and international exchanges in trade, which marked our high tide of fortunate advancement, are possible only when the nations of all continents are restored to stable order and normal relationship."

Del Gates Hear Address

The only other reference to international affairs, and the only mention of the arms conference now assembled at Washington, the delegates to which heard the President today, came at the conclusion of his address. "Agreement to your expressed desire," he said, "and in complete accord with the purposes of the executive branch of the Government, there is in Washington, as you happily know, an international conference now most earnestly at work on plans for the limitation of armament, a naval holiday, and the just settlement of problems which might develop into causes of international disagreement."

"It is easy to believe a world hope is centered on this capital city and a most gratifying world accomplishment it not improbable."

Outlines Domestic Plans

Today was the first time Mr. Harding has essayed to lay out in extenso the Administration's plans for domestic legislation. They are summarized as follows:

First—Renewed tax revision on recommendations to be made later with such further reductions as continued economies may justify.

Second—Early passage of the foreign debt commission bill with an executive free hand and the promise to Congress "that the executive branch of the Government would adopt no major policy in dealing with these matters which would conflict with the purpose of Congress in authorizing the loans."

Third—Repeal of the provisions of the Jones shipping act that would abrogate commercial treaties with promise of a programme soon to be submitted for the shipping problem, and an appeal for Congressional tolerance while the Executive continues the Wilson policy of non-compliance with such provisions.

Urges Tariff Revision

Fourth—Radical alteration of the Fordney tariff to give the Executive, through the tariff commission adequate power to fix duties to meet problems as they arise; and to include "a provision authorizing, proclaimed American valuation, under prescribed conditions, on any given list of articles imported."

Fifth—Encouragement of farmers in co-operative marketing plans, legislation for which is pending.

Sixth—Legislation for judicial settlement of troubles between capital and labor, involving "the construction of a code and a charter of elemental rights, dealing with the relations of employer and employee."

Seventh—Legislation for irrigation of arid lands and drainage of swamp lands.

Eighth—An appropriation of supply the American Relief Administration with 10,000,000 bushels of corn and 1,000,000 bushels of seed grains for relief of the starving in Russia.

Ninth—An amendment to be proposed to the Constitution to release non-taxable bonds for taxation without disadvantage, resulting to the States.

The President aroused considerable expectation by his announcement that in the brief time he had he was only presenting part of the work he has cut out for his former colleagues. He said there was a score more of topics that he would take "up with them later, this would include the bonus and the plan for reorganization of the Government."

It was generally conceded that by bringing up the labor problem the President had unloosed a subject that would prove the cause of bitter debate at no distant future.

Follows Wilson's Path

Vivid reminder was brought to the Democrats of appeals by President Woodrow Wilson for reconstruction legislation during the last two years of his Administration, while the Republicans were in charge of Congress. They recalled that the former President recommended many of the policies that were revealed today.

Appearance of the President at the Capitol brought out a tremendous crowd. Official and diplomatic Washington, no less than the social side, attended. Every available space in the gallery and on the floor was filled.

VALUABLE DOCUMENTS,
IN CAPITOL RUINED
BY BOOKWORMS

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3.—Kentucky Reports, Acts, documents of the Senate and House Journals worth $50,000 and probably 500 more volumes which cost $1,000 stored in the basement of the Capitol have been ruined by bookworms which eat the backs of the volumes. The Sinking Fund Commission has engaged a chemical company to fight the pests.

DOES NOT TO RETURN HOME

Although kept on his cold shoulders which he has American medical profession turned toward him, Dr. Adolf Lorenz, famous Austrian, indicated tonight that he probably would carry on his free clinics for cripples here. He had announced earlier in the day that he would return to Vienna.

"I'll stay if they don't throw me out," he said tonight.

Dr. Lorenz attributed feeling against him to animosities bred by the war, and said it was general with in the medical profession of the United States. The people as a whole, though, have been wonderful beyond description in their reception of his work, the surgeon said.

"Whether I go home to Vienna or stay and do what I can is entirely up to the health commissioner of New York," he declared tonight.

When Health Commissioner, Copeland, was told of this, he said he would see to it tomorrow that Dr. Lorenz remained. He said he would call together a group of orthopedic surgeons and map out a channel for the Austrian visitor's activities, that would shield him from exploitation and ensure warm and proper cooperation.

It was Dr. Copeland who first sought to bring about a change of heart in Dr. Lorenz. Upon greeting the surgeon a moment after he had announced his plan to return to Vienna, the health commissioner asked him not to be disturbed by the "type of citizens that were called damn fools," while later on his way to a clinic where a score awaited the touch of his fingers Dr. Lorenz was asked if he felt galled.

"Yes, no," the gray bearded visitor said, puffing at a cigarette.

"Ah, well, I am old. I am too old to have to do my work and be offended, too. I am too old to have time to be offended. If I go back to Vienna now I might return in a year or two when the feeling dies down. But I can no longer count the years ahead. There is much for me to do in Vienna."

MAXWELL

Mrs. W. T. May, who has been visiting relatives in Owensboro, for quite a while returned to her home here Saturday.

DE VALERA TO OPPOSE

IRISH PACT

Peace Treaty With Britain Violates Nation's Wishes, He Says in Message

Dublin, Dec. 8.—Eamonn De Valera tonight issued a statement saying he could not recommend the peace treaty with Great Britain to the Dail Eireann or to the country, and that in this attitude he is supported by the Ministers of Defense and of Home Affairs.

A public meeting of the Dail Eireann has been fixed for Wednesday.

The third session of the Dail Eireann Cabinet ended tonight, a few minutes after 9 o'clock. It is understood that the opinions of the members of the Cabinet regarding the peace agreement were divided, and that the questions will be left to the decision of the Dail Eireann. An official report of the meeting is promised later.

Text of De Valera's Message
Following is the text of De Valera's message to the Irish people issued at 11:30 o'clock tonight.

"You have seen in the public press the text of the proposed treaty with Great Britain. The terms of this agreement are in violent conflict with the wishes of the majority of this nation as expressed freely at successive elections in the last three years.

"I feel it my duty to inform you immediately that I cannot recommend acceptance of this treaty either to the Dail Eireann or to the country. In this attitude I am supported by the Ministers of Home Affairs and Defense.

"A public session of the Dail Eireann is being summoned for Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

Asks People To Keep Order
"I ask the people to maintain during the interval the same discipline as heretofore. The members of the Cabinet, though of divided opinions, are prepared to carry on public services as usual.

"The army, as such, is of course not affected by the political situation and continues under the same orders and control.

"The great test of our people has come. Let us face it worthily, without bitterness, and, above all without recriminations. There is a definite constitutional way of resolving our political differences. Let us not depart from it, and let the conduct of the Cabinet in this matter be an example to the whole nation."

Arthur Griffith, head of the Irish delegation which negotiated the settlement at London, issued the following statement tonight:

"I have signed the treaty between Ireland and Great Britain. I believe this treaty will lay the foundation of peace and friendship between the two nations. What I have signed I shall stand by, in the belief that the end of the conflict of centuries is at hand."

Prisoners Are Released
King George's proclamation of amnesty for Irishmen in internment resulted in the release today of many prisoners who had been interned in the Kilmahnam and Arbour Hill camps and the Mount Joy jail.

The 1,500 prisoners in the Ballykhaler Camp will be released tomorrow.

Announcement was made today at the military headquarters here that if the Anglo-Irish agreement is ratified, the crown forces would be removed from Ireland within a month.

CARE AT CHRISTMAS TIME

At Christmas Time, many people are so engrossed with the idea of entertainment and amusement for their children, that they are forgetful of the dangers that accompany these entertainments.

Picture the Family Reunion.—Gathered around the annual Christmas tree—Children, grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins and all—the tree with its many decorations, its imitation snow, tinsel, the presents for all—and Santa Claus with his white locks and flowing beard—when suddenly a flash, and the Fiend—Fire—appears. Someone has been careless and the accident occurs. Some little fellow hopelessly scarred for life—or maybe the loss of life. The happy scene is changed without warning to one of sorrow, misery and despair. There is a Christmas, the horror of which is forever burned into the memory and hearts of those who but a short time before were so gay and carefree. A family reunion that will never be forgotten. But always the darkness of death or accident in the

WHAT GUARANTEES?

The real crux of the disarmament question seems to have, in a great measure, been neglected in the voluminous discussions of the probable outcome of the Washington Conference. What concrete practical method is to be adopted to guarantee and enforce the reductions and agreements recommended and sanctioned by the envoys? With the memory of the "scrap of paper" pronouncement of Germany and similar international faithlessness still fresh in memory, the United States will certainly not be satisfied with mere diplomatic assurances of accord,
"gentlemen's agreements" so called,
And our compatriots nations at the council table will be equally loath to be content with such guarantees after the failure of the Senate to ratify the Versailles Treaty and the League Covenant which had been negotiated
by our duly accredited representatives.

The results of the Disarmament Conference must be embodied in binding treaties and ratified by our sovereign-making agency, the Senate. Before we can expect definite enforcement of benefits from the Conference, there should not be, in the interest of patriotism, any unreasonable delay in consideration or arbitrary refusal of ratification on the part of the Senate.

We have faith in our leaders and we believe they are sincerely seeking the world's long-sought goal, but they must let bygones be bygones and play the game like men.
The world's weal or woe, for generations, may depend upon the results of the Disarmament Conference and related negotiations. Progress toward world peace should not be again hindered or prevented by a repittion of time-serving partisan opportunism, such as was displayed by the Senate in blocking the peace
plans of the last Administration.

One of the most important of recent happenings of world interest was the signing of a treaty between Great Britain and Ireland, by which the latter was granted a dominion form of government such as is enjoyed by Canada, Australia and South Africa. The Free State of Ireland is by this agreement given practical carte blanche in all internal affairs and in addition is guaranteed the military and naval protection of the British Empire. The only condition is the swearing of fealty to the King by the members of the Irish Parliament. This settlement of the age-old quarrel between Erin and Britain is just and reasonable from the viewpoint of either party and should be ratified by the Imperial and Irish Parliaments. Acceptance by the former is practically a foregone conclusion and it is probable that the popular assemblies of both North and South Ireland will also give their approval in spite of the opposition of certain hot-headed irreconcilables. Should Ulster alone reject the pact, it would not prevent the efficient operation of the plan as to the remaining and larger part of the Emerald Isle, this contingency having been provided for. Thus does the future of democracy and international justice grow brighter.

The leading Pro-League advocates, of both parties, are showing a most patriotic and commendable open-mindedness and fairness in their attitude toward the Harding "association of nations" idea. They regard in and the table fairly groaned be-the proposed association as well as the four-nation pact for the settlement of mutual interests in the Pacific as steps toward the ultimate adoption of the League or, at least,

a consummation of the same goal.
The nation does not want "splendid isolation," the last national campaign and election to the contrary notwithstanding. Our participation in world affairs is inevitable and common sense dictates that it be safeguarded by contractual metes
and bounds. Let's go as far as possible toward international peace,
irrespective of the individual or party
label which the agency may happen to bear. The Senate should and, we believe, will ratify the Pacific agreement and eventually some form of world compact looking toward international peace.

Mr. H. D. Taylor visited his son,
Clifford Taylor, in Hibbing, Minn.
While on his visit he went on a hunt 50 miles north of that city and killed a bull moose that weighed 1100 lbs. It required three men and a two horse sleigh to bring the monster out of the woods. He returned home last week. Mrs. Clifford Taylor came with him for a short visit. Mr. Taylor brought with him a ham of the moose which he shared with his neighbors. Mr.
Taylor is a great hunter. He has on

Last Wednesday morning, Dec. 6th, tough to the surprise of Mrs. J. H.
Cobb, Bonner Street, a number of her friends gathered at her home to be with her on the occasion of the anniversary of her birth. They brought with them a lavish supply of substantial and dainty food. A few of the remembrances from a distance were a cake from Mrs. J. A. Blair, Pueblo, Colorado; one from Mrs. F. M.
Burr, Knoxville, Indiana, one from her daughter in Pacific Grove, California; boxes of candy from her little granddaughters, Dollie and Mary Clark.

After the royal feast, Mrs. Cobb entertained with instrumental and vocal music and in every way proved to be an ideal hostess.

Those present were: Mrs. Maggie
Harper, Mrs. John Carden, Mrs. J. A.
Reidrow, Mrs. Ollie Carden and Mrs.
Mattie B. Barrett.

May the hostess live many years
for returns of these unexpected pleasures is the sincere wish of those present.

FARM EXTRACTS

INFORMATION FROM THE EXPERIMENT STATION — AGRICULTURAL PAPERS AND THE COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

Waste Straw And Stover Are Rich In Plant Food

Fertility contained in straw, corn stover and other crop residues will benefit soils as much as that purchased in the form of commercial fertilizers provided careful attention is given to these materials and care taken to see that they are placed on the soil where the plant food may be utilized, soils and crops specialists say. Nearly 1,000,000 tons of straw and 1,500,000 tons of waste corn stover which are not consumed as feed become a part of the manure produced and constitute an important factor in keeping up the yields on Kentucky farms, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist at the College of Agriculture.

That the abundant use of these materials as bedding does not reduce the value of the manure produced is shown by the fact that a ton of straw contains as much nitrogen, nearly as much phosphorus and more than twice as much potash as a ton of manure. Stover is even richer, containing one and three-fourths times as much nitrogen and twice as much potash as manure. Stens of legumes such as clover and soybeans which sometimes go back into the manure contain four times as much nitrogen, two to three times as much phosphorus and about four times as much potash as manure. Similar things are true in regard to the high nutritional value of residues of these various crops left in the field at harvest time.

Using commercial fertilizer valuations for plant food a ton of corn stover contains a little more than $5.00 worth of plant food, a ton of clover more than $7.00 worth, a ton of straw almost $5.00 and a ton of average farm manure nearly $3.00 worth. In view of these facts it is important in keeping up the fertility of the farm to conserve these residues rather than burn them in the field or otherwise allow them to go to waste, and lose all of the organic matter together with most of the nitrogen which they contain, according to Mr. Stephenson. When everything is plowed under the smallest loss in plant food takes place and much needed organic matter is added to the soil.

Farm Youngsters Show New Interest In Clubs

Reports of increases in the enrollment of boys and girls in junior agricultural clubs being received by club authorities at the College of Agriculture from county agents indicate that farm youngsters of the State are showing increased interest in the projects outlined for them in this work. Among the latest reports are those from Breathitt, Lawrence and Jackson counties. The county agents of which anticipate an increase in this year's enrollment over that of last year. In most cases the work is being carried on through the cooperation of school teachers, many of whom have reported a record enrollment from their district.

Lack Of Plant Food Reduces Crop Yields

Lack of available plant food, which is the greatest single factor responsible for the low average crop yields of Kentucky farms, can be remedied best by the use of farm manure and commercial phosphate coupled with the growing of legumes and the practice of green manuring, according to suggestions by crops specialists at the College of Agriculture. Supplying the necessary plant food should increase the State's present average corn yield of 25 bushels an acre to 40 or 45 bushels an acre and the average wheat yield from 13 bushels an acre to 20 or more bushels, they say.

"Either nitrogen or phosphorus, or both, are the limiting factors in determining yields on practically every farm in Kentucky," R. E. Stephenson, a member of the college agronomy department said. "Phosphorus usually must be bought in the form of acid phosphate, basic slag or rock phosphate but it is seldom profitable to purchase nitrogen for use on general field crops because of its cost. As long as the nitrogen deficiency is not made good, however, the use of phosphate cannot be as profitable as it otherwise should be. In other words, phosphorus will not give its best results until the nitrogen is provided with it."

"Since manure is relatively rich in nitrogen, it is an excellent form of fertilizer to use with phosphate which every farmer can purchase on an economical basis. Manure and phosphate, when used together, on soils needing both phosphorus and nitrogen gives it the desired results."

surplus bulls in their herds and in many cases have led them out for the market as steers, according to the cattlemen. The sales which are being planned are expected not only to furnish a market for these animals but also make it possible for farmers to obtain superior breeding animals at a reasonable price. Breeders having surplus steers will send them to an auction sale to be held at a central point in the county, according to present plans.

Blue Grass Poultrymen Completing Show Plans

Plans for a winter show at Lexington, Dec. 27 '30 to 31 by the Blue Grass Poultry Association are taking on a definite form and give promise of making the proposed event one of the best poultry displays ever seen in that section, according to an announcement by A. S. Chapin, poultry specialist at the College of Agriculture and president of the association. The statement of Rhode Island Red and Single Comb White Leghorn breeders together with an educational exhibit by the college and displays of birds by winning counties in the Kentucky State Fair standardization exhibit are expected to make the show of interest to all poultrymen and farmers in Kentucky.

Farmers Stop Guessing On Best Corn Varieties

Farmers in Fulton, Carlisle, Graves, Ballard and McCracken counties who co-operated with their county agents and the extension division of the College of Agriculture during the past year in conducting corn variety tests have eliminated much of the guessing which usually accompanies the selection of the best variety of corn for a given section, according to a report of Ralph Kenney, crops extension specialist from the college. The tests will be continued for several years in an effort to determine definitely which varieties are best suited to different sections of Kentucky.

In the 21 variety tests which the farmers conducted this year, Pride of Silene yielded an average of 40.8 bushels an acre, Boone County White an average of 37.8 bushels an acre, Reid's Yellow Dent an average of 34.9 bushels an acre, Iowa Silver-mine an average of 32.3 bushels an acre and Hickory King an average of 29 bushels an acre. These yields constitute the ones given in the first reports received from 27 counties in which variety tests were conducted during the past summer. In most tests several local varieties were included in the work and in several cases gave higher yields than any of the five varieties listed.

Chill Weather Requires Care In Marketing Hogs

Special care is necessary at this time of the year to avoid losses through overheating and subsequently chilling hogs being sent to the market, according to marketing specialists at the College of Agriculture. There is serious danger that animals which are overheated while being loaded will become chilled on their way to market with the result that they catch cold and sell at a disadvantage, the specialists say. Careless loading, hard driving and mistreatment of the animals must be guarded against carefully, they say.

Farm And Home News From Over Kentucky

Campbell county farmers have given special attention to cover crops this fall with the result that few fields in the county in which soil washing might occur will be bare this winter, according to a report from County Agent H. F. Link.

Poultry, dairying, seed selection, orcharding and swine feeding are to receive special attention from farmers in the Forest Grove community of Crittenden county during the coming year, these phases of farming having been included in the community program of work which they have outlined under the direction of County Agent John R. Spencer.

Members of the Mackville Junior Agricultural Club in Washington county, recently staged a feature event when they held a junior club carnival having appropriate side shows and a number of other attractions, according to a report from Assistant County Agent H. R. Cottrell. Proceeds from the carnival will be used to purchase a sewing machine for the club.

Members of junior agricultural clubs in Warren county who raise pigs for their project during the coming year are to have exceptional opportunities in obtaining a start as swine growers as a result of plans being made by breeders of purebred hogs who are co-operating with County Agent W. H. Rogers. According to present plans prominent breed-

Considerable interest has been aroused among Boyle county farmers in the eradication of cattle tuberculosis as a result of a recent moving picture show in which the film entitled, "Out of the Shadows," was shown, according to County Agent C. L. Taylor. More than 830 persons attended the meeting.

Good results being obtained by the co-operative purebred Holstein sire association in Campbell county have aroused so much interest that Jersey breeders of the county are planning on a similar organization, a report from County Agent H. F. Link states.

PASSENGER FARES REDUCED

Passenger fares throughout the country will be reduced by eight per cent January 1, as a result of the elimination of the war tax. The cut is the first basic change in passenger tariffs since August 25, 1920. The war tax was eliminated under the new tax bill passed just before congress adjourned.

While the cut is not large it is general and applies on railroad passenger tickets of every description in the United States. It is also intimated that many of the railroads favor making an additional reduction in passenger rates, possibly knocking off six-tenths of a cent a mile.

MR. A. M. BARNETT CONTINUES LOCAL HISTORICAL SKETCHES

My former contributions to the Herald in the way of extracts from the Journal of Isaac Morton having apparently met with favor from and aroused the interest of a number of readers and having received several requests for a continuance of such contributions, I have decided to comply with these expressed wishes.

Strange as it may seem, I have found my former historical items apparently to have been most appreciated by those who were born and reared in Hartford and vicinity, but have located in other States. I trust that, if this and future additions to my sketches of former times and persons serve to interest and entertain our erstwhile fellowcitizens, unresent neighbors will, at least, not object.

It is possible that I may make some personal comment upon the folks of a century ago and if I prove to be wrong as to any individual or incident, I trust some one, who knows better, will "speak out in meeting" and set me right. I shall especially expect and appreciate what, I am sure, will be invaluable co-operation from our good friend of antiquarian bent, Mr. Lyurgus T. Reid, of Rockport.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

In 1821 Charles Henderson was County Clerk of Ohio County, Hartford had two physicians, Charles W. McCreary and Ben Smith, the former living where E. P. Thomas now lives and the latter building and residing in the Judge Townsend house on the Beaver Dam pike. Both died when comparatively young men. The former is buried in the family graveyard a short distance back of the residence; the latter in the Milton Taylor graveyard a few miles above Hartford. Hartford's branch of The Bank of Kentucky, in charge of Richard Elliot as cashier, was being conducted in a part of the building where James H. Williams now resides. Whiskey was being sold at wholesale in Hartford and was manufactured by William Fields, whose distillery was near Buford, and by George T. Harris, whose distillery was Muddy creek, near Horton.

The following marriage licenses were issued for the month of December 1821:

Richard W. Barrett to Mary Wedding; ceremony performed by John Ridgeway.

Samuel Williams to Maria Mallin; ceremony performed by Loderic Davis.

John Patton to Hany Hudson, ceremony performed by Thomas Downs, M. of G.

William Hudson to Margaret French and William Six to Jane Crabtree; both couples married by Benjamin Burden, D. D.

Henry Allen to Jane Letterman and Michael Clifford to Nellie Rice; ceremony performed by John Pinkston M. M. E. E.

Samuel French to Fanny Hudson; ceremony performed by Thomas Downs M. of G.

James Loney to Anna Brown, Ashford Woodward to Dolly McCrocklin, Joseph Barnes to Elizabeth Barron and John Loney to Judah Brown; all four couples married by Jared Tichenor J. P. O. C.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back—sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys Hartford residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Hartford statement.

W. H. Gillespie, blacksmith, Union St., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills because they have never failed to help me. At different times I was troubled with sharp pains in my back and my kidneys acted too freely. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills from a friend and bought a box at the Ohio County Drug Co. I have used Doan's occasionally when troubled with my back and kidneys and this excellent remedy has never failed to help me. I am glad to praise a reliable medicine like Doan's Kidney Pills." (Statement given November 16, 1916.)

On January 25, 1921, Mr. Gillespie said: "I haven't had to use Doan's Kidney Pills since I last endorsed them. I consider I am cured of the trouble and give Doan's the credit."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Gillespie had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

OHIO RIVER NEAR FLOOD STAGE

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 3.—Because of heavy rains above here, which have brought up Ohio River tributaries, a flood stage of thirty-eight to forty-one feet, the greatest since the 1882 flood, will be reached here by Sunday or Monday, it is feared.

The danger line of thirty-five feet this section continue to rise at a rapid rate. The Wabash is six feet above the danger line of fifteen feet forty-one feet will surround the city at Mt. Carmel, Ill., and the rise is waterworks plant with water. Most expected to continue for several days. White River and Patoka River saved their corn and will move out er are rising. Both Green and Barren livestock between now and Sunday. Rivers in Kentucky have been above All the tributaries of the Ohio in flood stage since Monday.

CIRCUIT COURT ADMOURNS

The regular November term of the Ohio Circuit Court was finally adjourned Thursday afternoon after farewell talks by the court officials and speeches by members of the local bar complimentary of the records and services of these incumbents, whose terms expire on January 2.

The grand jury returned a total of 115 indictments during the term, 82 of which were for violations of the liquor laws. Among the criminal cases disposed of were the following:

Commonwealth vs. Henry
Daugherty, selling liquor, 4 cases,
$1,200 fines and 150 days in jail;
Com. vs. Thomas Hines, transporting liquor, $300 fine and 30 days;
Com. vs. Clarence Hines, selling liquor, $300 and 30 days; Com. vs.
Clarence White, selling liquor, 2
cases, $450 and 60 days; Com. vs.
Wesley Daugherty, selling liquor without license, $100 fine; Com.
vs. Pony McDaniel, selling liquor without license, $100 fine; Com. vs.
Kit Logsdon, selling liquor, $300
and 30 days; Com. vs. L. E.
Daugherty, selling liquor without license, $100; Com. vs. Edgar Taylor, taking property without felonious intent, $25 fine; Com. vs. Huck Mason, selling liquor without license, $100; Com. vs. Shelby Brown, selling liquor without license, $40;
Com. vs. Orval Phelps, breach of peace, $25; Com. vs. Arlio Marlow, assault and battery, $25; Com. vs.
Eddie Ford, assault and battery $75; Com. vs. Glenn Morris, giving "roll" check, $50.

In the case of the Commonwealth
vs. W. C. Daugherty, selling liquor, 7 cases, the defendant was adjudged of unsound mind and sent to the State Hospital for treatment. The trial of the prosecution against L. L.
Deaton for detaining a woman resulted in a hung jury.

The following civil actions were disposed of as indicated:

Naomi Vinson vs. Charlie B. Vinson, plaintiff awarded $39 per month temporary alimony during pendency of suit; Ruth M. Prior vs.
George H. Prior, judgment for divorce; T. H. Balmale vs. Lucinda Balmale, judgment for divorce; W.
H. Renfrow vs. Mary E. Sutton, &c., judgment and order of sale; Alfonso Decker vs. Arthur Oller, &c., judgment and order of sale; Felix Damming vs. Willie Demming, judgment for divorce; W. P. Tylor, &c. vs.
Lella Haynes, &c., judgment and order of sale; Anna J. Bennett, Guardian vs. Charles B. Bennett, judgment and order of sale; C. W.
Arnold vs. H. N. Gony, judgment
for $350.33; Daisy L. Miller vs.
Katie Dawson, judgment and order of sale; Marie Harlin vs. Bennie Harlin, judgment for divorce; Lizzie Mae Barnett vs. Omar Barnett, judgment for divorce; Holbrook & Parks
vs. West Hartford Coal Co., judgment and order of sale; John Bullock, Gdn. vs. J. L. Adlington, &c., judgment and order of sale;
C. C. Raymer vs. W. F. Keown, &c., judgment and order of sale; W. H.
Parks &c. vs. O. H. Richardson,
&c., judgment for $70.37.

The only civil cause submitted to a jury was Besse Martin, et al. vs.
Lincoln Central R. R. (4 cases consolidated), in which the Court gave peremptory instructions for the defendant.

After consultation between Judge
Robert L. Slack and Judge-Elect George S. Wilson an order was entered calling a special term of Court for the trial of criminal cases only,
to begin on the fourth Monday in next month, January 23, 1922.

ROCKPORT AROUSED

A near-panic was caused at Rockport Saturday night when three or four drunken rowdies came into town and ran amuck. It is reported that they abused the city officials and a goodly number of other citizens to cover, necessitating the sending of a hurry call for aid to Con-

the latter could arrive, however, the culprits had departed. The good citizens of Rockport are now taking steps to prevent a recurrence of such lawlessness. The Rockport Post of

The only civil cause submitted to a jury was Hiesle Martin, et al., vs. Minola Central R. R. (4 cases consolidated), in which the Court gave peremptory instructions for the defendant.

After consultation between Judge Robert L. Slack and Judge-Elect George S. Wilson an order was entered calling a special term of Court for the trial of criminal cases only, to begin on the fourth Monday in next month, January 23, 1922.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kirk entertained Judge Robert W. Slack at dinner last Thursday.

LOCAL DASHES

FOR SALE at bargain, second hand cook stove, R. L. DEVER, 50-11 Hartford, Ky.

Dr. Edwin G. Rhoads of Sheffield, Ala., has been the guest for several days of his brother, Mr. W. H. Rhoads, of the Goshen community, and his sister, Mrs. C. P. Austin, of Beaver Dam.

Mr. J. A. Caldwell recently killed a hog that weighed over 500 lbs. and produced 29 gallons of lard. The hog, then only a small pig was purchased at a Red Cross auction sale in Beaver Dam, about three years ago.

Among those who went to Owensboro, Monday night to see Al. G. Field's Minstrels were: Misses Myrtle Maddox, Mrs. Katherine McGreely, Mr. Paul Sisk, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blankenship, Hartford; Dr. J. L. Smith, Mr. Alvin Rowe and Mr. Pen Dexter, Centertown.

Mr. Tymor Westerfield was driving a wagon along Mulberry Street, last Wednesday, when a truck frightened his team causing them to run away. In the melee the coupling pole was broken and other damage done to the wagon but fortunately Mr. Westerfield and the team escaped without injury.

The County Board of Drainage Commissioners met here Monday for the transaction of routine business in regard to the Roy Muffett Ditch. All members, viz: Messrs. S. T. Barnett, Hartford, V. C. Hoeker, Beaver Dam, Route 2, and J. A. Bellamy, Whitesville, Route 2, were present, also the Engineer, John B. Wilson, Contractor, L. E. Morris, Attorney, M. L. Heavrin, and Secretary, McDowell A. Fogle.

ROCKPORT AROUSED

A near-panic was caused at Rockport Saturday night when three or four drunken rowdies came into town and ran amuck. It is reported that they chased the city officials and a goodly number of other citizens to cover, necessitating the sending of a hurry call for aid to Constable Canary, of McHenry. Before the latter could arrive, however, the culprits had departed. The good citizens of Rockport are now taking steps to prevent a recurrence of such lawlessness. The Rockport Post of the American Legion is taking a leading part in the movement to protect the community.
